Burnett Honors College scholarships are organized into four categories: Study Abroad and International Affairs, Undergraduate Research, Internship Support and Professional Development, and Academic Excellence and Leadership.

Scholarship applications are due in October for the spring semester and in March for the summer and fall semesters. Deadlines will be posted and advertised at the appropriate time.

Students will apply to and be considered for only one scholarship category. Applicants will be selected for each award based on their qualifications. Please visit the above link to see a full list of the scholarships offered under each category. Not all scholarships are offered every semester.

Eligibility:
- Students must be full-time BHC students in good standing for the semester they will receive funds. However, the full-time stipulation does not apply to the Study Abroad and International Affairs Category or the Internship Support and Professional Development.
- Per UCF Financial Aid, you must be a U.S. Citizen or eligible non-citizen. Eligible non-citizens include a permanent U.S. resident with a Permanent Resident Card (I-551); a conditional permanent resident with a Conditional Green Card (I-551C); as well as some I-94 classifications.

APPLY FOR A SCHOLARSHIP BY SUBMITTING AN APPLICATION FOR ONE OF THESE CATEGORIES:

Study Abroad and International Affairs:
This category is for students studying abroad or completing an internship in the area of International Affairs. If using a UCF study abroad program, the student must be enrolled in a study abroad course for the semester they receive the award. If studying abroad through a third party, it is the student's responsibility to work with their host institution to make sure UCF's Study Abroad Financial Aid Office receives their enrollment information. If UCF's Study Abroad Financial Aid Office does not receive the documentation they need in a timely manner, fund disbursement could be impacted. If the student has questions regarding the documentation required to process their study abroad award, they should contact SFAStudyAbroad@ucf.edu.

Attach a statement of no more than 500 words addressing your motivation for choosing this program. How will this program impact your academic, personal, and professional goals? Include a budget with your program costs, travel expenses, tuition, and any other scholarship income. Preference is given to students who have not previously studied abroad and who have financial need.

Undergraduate Research:
This category supports high-achieving students who are participating in undergraduate research. If you have a particular interest in one of the scholarships, please explain in your essay.

Attach a one-to-two-page essay outlining your involvement in undergraduate research and address how the research will help further your academic and career goals. Is the research part of a UCF laboratory, industry, Honors Undergraduate Thesis, or an individual project? Who is the faculty supervisor? Include a budget if necessary for supplies, travel, or any other expenses that need to be considered.
Internship Support and Professional Development:

This category is for students who are participating in internships or other distinct opportunities in experiential learning and leadership. Some examples include but are not limited to language immersion programs and independent projects. If you have a particular interest in one of the scholarships, please explain in your essay.

Attach a one-to-two-page essay outlining your internship opportunity or your other ideas for projects or programs that lead to professional development. Include a budget with program costs, travel/relocation expenses, living expenses, and tuition as well as any salary or other budget support such as additional scholarships.

Academic Excellence and Leadership:

This category is intended to support and recognize outstanding Honors students who demonstrate strong academics and embody leadership qualities. Students applying to this category should exhibit academic excellence, creativity, and/or leadership skills. Recipients will be selected based on their academic record, leadership, community activities, and work experience. First-semester FTIC (First-Time in College) students should apply for another category as there is no collegiate academic data to pull from.

Please submit a personal statement of no more than 500 words addressing how you meet the following criteria:

- Academic Excellence and Creativity
- Leadership Skills
- Please also address your future career/educational plans and how this scholarship will help you achieve them
