BURNETT HONORS COLLEGE
SCHOLARSHIP
INFORMATION

BEFORE YOU APPLY

Congratulations on beginning your Honors Scholarship application! Please read this first page in full to understand the process of applying. If you have any questions about scholarship information or the application process, you can reach us at opa@ucf.edu or (407) 823-2076.

Our office is pleased to offer Honors Scholarships applications twice a year. Each cycle awards funds for the following semester, so spring applications support summer and fall opportunities, and fall applications are disbursed in the spring.

Scholarships are sorted into six categories: STEM, Financial Need, Leadership, Study Abroad and International Affairs, Undergraduate Research, and Internship Support. STEM, Financial Need, and Leadership scholarships are only available during the fall application cycle. You cannot apply to or be awarded a scholarship from these three categories during the spring application cycle.

Fall Cycle Dates

- Applications open mid-October
- Open for 1-2 weeks
- Decisions made by end of November
- Disbursed with spring financial aid
- All six scholarship categories available

Spring Cycle Dates

- Applications open mid-February
- Open for 1-2 weeks
- Decisions made by end of March
- Disbursed with summer or fall financial aid
- Three categories available: Study Abroad, Undergraduate Research, Internship Support

Basic Scholarship Eligibility

Before you apply, please be sure you meet the following eligibility criteria:

- Must be an active student in University Honors and/or the Honors Undergraduate Thesis program.
- Must be in good academic standing. Students on academic probation are not eligible to apply.
- All class standings are eligible to apply to all scholarships, unless you do not have a UCF GPA.
 - FTIC freshmen and transfer students in their first semester at UCF fall are not eligible to apply for STEM, Financial Need, or the Leadership categories.
 - All other categories are available to apply to.
- Preference will be given to those who have not already received an award in the category before.

How to Apply

- Select one category to apply to. You may not apply for multiple categories.
 - You will be considered for all awards within the category you select (e.g., STEM).
 - We do not process applications for individual scholarships.
 - If you are selected to receive a scholarship, our office will match you to a specific award.
- Submit your application to using the Microsoft Form linked on the homepage of the Honors Scholarships page.
- If you are selected for a scholarship and have not received your scholarship in the expected semester, please contact Financial Aid (finaid@ucf.edu) first as our office does not handle fund disbursement.
- Read on to learn more about the scholarships offered in each category, or visit <https://honors.ucf.edu/honors-scholarships/>.

STEM

Beth Juge Memorial Scholarship for Women in STEM

Beth Juge graduated from Kansas University in 1966 with a B.S. degree in Chemistry.
